President's Statement for the Zenith September 15, 1989

The purpose of education is to educate for citizenship. At High Point College students are not merely enrollees, but members of the college community; and as we know, it is a special kind of community. Here we combine the spiritual with the intellectual. We do this in one continuous effort, and conducive to the total growth of the student.

Education in our country was started by the church, so it does not seem strange to us to combine education and religion — "the most enduring societies of human history." Throughout life, we will come to appreciate more and more the influences which have formed us here and elsewhere.

To the class of 1990, may you go forth to put knowledge into service and may your lives be marked by long years of enlightened citizenship. We are proud of you, and wish for you God's blessings as you pursue your goals.

Sincerely,

James E. Hutchinson, Jr.

Vance Davis Dean of the College

A college can count itself lucky when the Dean knows about the school as a former student and as an employee. Dean Davis graduated from High Point College in 1961 and went on to further his education at Yale University Divinity School and at Drew University. In 1973, he joined the faculty at HPC as a professor of religion and in the spring of 1988 he became the Dean of the College.

Dean Davis is working closely with the National Commission, and according to their task, "We hope to make High Point the best school of its size and type in the Southeast." He also hopes that High Point can continue its history of being a friendly campus on the social side while expanding on the academic side. With all this change taking place, he stands strong in his belief that High Point College graduates should be "critical thinkers who are morally and professionally responsible."

Gart Evans Dean of Students

Originally from Delaware, Dean Gart Evans chose High Point College to continue his education and has since not left. He graduated in 1975, so he knows the college both as a former student and as an employee. This year marked his fourth year as Dean of Students and his ninth year as a staff member. Dean Evans spent the first five years as the Director of Alumni Affairs. Student involvement is top on Dean Evans' list of changes at HPC. He would like to see every one get involved during their years here because after all, "High Point is your college."

High Point College:

A Brief History

High Point College . . . Have you ever stopped to think of what went into building it? Where did it all begin?

There were two colleges that were forerunners to High Point College. In 1856, Yadkin College opened its doors in Davidson County. A few years before, Jamestown Female College was established. Jamestown burned and was never rebuilt; instead, the girls were moved to the all male Yadkin College to study. In 1895, Yadkin's charter was annulled, and it was not until 1914 that the idea of another college was brought up again.

It was a rainy September 14, 1924 when High Point College opened after many years of debate on where the Methodist school should be built. Only three buildings stood on campus at that time, Robert's Hall, McEwen Hall, and McCulloch Hall. Robert's Hall was the centre of activity for the college, housing all classrooms, the chapel, the auditorium, and the cafeteria. McEwen Hall served the purpose of housing female students and single female professors. McCulloch Hall was not complete when the first student arrived; therefore, the men were housed with area families until the roof could be put into place.

As the school began to grow, more buildings had to be added. In 1933, Harrison Hall was built. The Wrenn Building (1937) was the first library on campus; now the building has been renovated and houses the Admissions Office and the computer department. By 1941, the Empty Space Theatre, as it is now known, was built. This building was the student centre for 31 years until a bigger, more modern Campus Center was built in 1972. And where would visiting teams stay if the Field House hadn't been built in 1947?

Once more students took an interest in HPC, more buildings had to be built for different purposes. Wesley Hall, a female residence hall, was built in 1953. In 1954, two new classroom buildings were constructed, Cooke Hall and the Fine Arts Building/ Memorial Auditorium. In 1957, the school needed a new gymnasium, so the Alumni Gymnasium was built. Still more students flowed into HPC, so in 1958 and 1964, three new residence halls were built, North, Millis, and Yadkin Halls. (Yadkin Hall was so named to commemorate Yadkin College). In 1967, the sciences got their own home, Haworth Hall of Science. Mary Irwin Belk Hall, High Point's only co-ed residence hall, was built in 1968. In 1969, the college added an Infirmary to the long list of buildings on campus. The Charles Hayworth, Sr. Chapel was built in 1972, and in 1986, was remodeled due to a fire. In 1984, the Smith Library was built. New Hall was built in 1987, after McCulloch was torn down, to house underclass men.

In 1927, HPC graduated its first class of 13 seniors with only three buildings. Now it's 1990, and HPC is graduating its 63rd class of nearly 300 seniors with 22 buildings and plans for two new ones.

What's next? Well, by 1991, the college hopes to boast a new athletic complex for intercollegiate purposes, and before the twenty-first century, there are plans for a new fine arts center and auditorium.

The National Commission

On the Future of High Point College

What is in store for the future of High Point College? That is the question that the 142 members of the National Commission began trying to answer in May 1989. The commission is now faced with the task of developing a blueprint for the future of HPC in order to assist the college in achieving its full potential. Dr. Jacob C. Martinson, president of the college, feels that the Commission is necessary because "The stronger the institution, the more it wants to improve. Most institutions never reach their full potential." He doesn't want that to be the case here. Instead, he says "We want to move into the next decade in a strong position among academic institutions in North Carolina and the Southeast. We thought now would be the perfect time to look at where we are and where we want to be 10 years from now."

The Commission is divided into six committees; each one concentrating on a particular aspect of the college's future ranging from student life to physical facilities. In January of 1990 each committee will submit a report to the executive committee and a final document will be drawn up. "As the college looks to the future, certain decisions need to be made concerning how the institution might best enhance its influence on the lives of the students and convey its educational philosophy to a wider audience. The commission will provide energy and direction for this center of learning for many, many years to come," said President Martinson. The future of High Point College has never looked brighter.

ORGANI

ZATIONS

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association is the governing unit of the student body at High Point College. Its members allocate funds to each organization on campus. SGA is comprised primarily of executive and legislature councils, as well as a judiciary. Collectively, members discuss issues which are brought before them. The Student Government Association is open to all students and is responsible for overseeing campus activity through the funding of other organizations.

Student Union

Under the direction of Ron Dalton, Student Union is an organization for the entire campus to be involved. The group provides the entertainment at High Point College. There are social, cultural, and recreational programs in which one can get involved. Student Union offers a chance to have fun while working on worthwhile projects. Student Unions plans concerts, dances, speakers, road trips, student/faculty mixers, Homecoming Weekend, and the week-long "Senior Sendoff".

Hi-Po

The Hi-Po is a publication by the students and faculty, for the students and faculty. The goal of the staff is to provide the campus with the most accurate and objective account of the campus news. The Hi-Po provides its readers with the "real" story through students and faculty features, sports, organizational news, and editorials.

Through hard work and dedication the four deadlines a semester are met. The staff responsibilities include reporting, writing and editing copy, photography, and layouts. Working on a college newspaper provides great experience for any student, especially those planning a career in journalism or communications.

WWIH — Radio Station

WWIH is High Point College's campus radio station. Students in the radio practicum experience the process of managing, programming, and operating a broadcast facility. Students go on the air throughout the day, as well as producing pre-recorded promotional spots and public service announcement for use on the air. WWIH is more than just a classroom experience. It is an actual working radio station broadcasting on 90.3 FM as licensed by the FCC. The overall format emphasizes new music — not TOP Forty, but rather the music that will be on the charts six months to a year from now. WWIH also features a number of shows focusing on more specialized areas of musical style.

HPC-TV

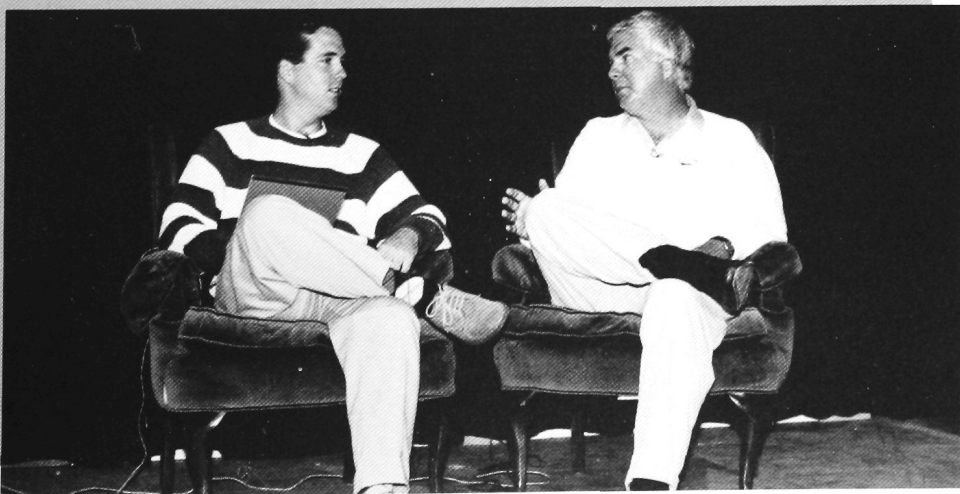

This year High Point College students began a new program called High Point College T.V. The program is directed, edited, and executing completely by the students. The program is broadcast daily on Cablevision, Channel 32. The shows are made up of interviews, sports, events, campus events, and many other exciting features. This year the program was advised by Laurie Crowder. With the ground that the staff has broken this year, they hope to build and expand their communications department in the years to follow.

Baptist Student Union is composed of students seeking fun and fellowship. You do not have to be Baptist or affiliated with any denomination to be an active participant. We are students like you who share concerns and problems on campus with the goal of applying biblical principals for today's problems. B.S.U.'s main purpose is to provide ways to show our concern by having Bible studies, visiting homes and shelters, missions, and having fun activities as well. We would like to extend a warm welcome to you at High Point College. We have weekly meetings in the Campus Center. Within these meetings we have guest speakers, discussions, and plan for future events.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega is a National co-ed service Fraternity based on the ideals of leadership, friendship and service. It is the largest undergraduate fraternity in the nation.

This year the brothers had their work cut out for them. With only six active brothers and a dedicated pledge class. They sponsored four bloodmobiles worked at the Open door Shelters once a month made ID's on campus, sponsored an escort service, and put out a student directory. APO did numerous projects around campus and worked with many organizations. APO also sponsored a food and clothes drive for the victims of Hurricane Hugo.

With all these projects they also had time for fun, too.

GET HIP!

The GET HIP (Get Everyone Together High Point College) was started in August 1989 by five High Point College students while attending the American Youth Foundations National Collegiate Leadership Conference in Michigan. The Purpose of this organization is to get students involved in the many campus organizations and also to facilitate better communications between the organizations. Each Spring a new group of students will be selected to attend this conference.

These Four are ready to put the spark back into HPC!

Jamie Lawson says, "Lets GET HIP!"

American Chemical Society

The purpose of the American Chemical Society is to promote interest in chemistry. The activities of the club supplement and enhance the academic program in areas such as current research, special programs, and field trips. The student members visited Oak Ridge National Laboratories for technical courses and took a field trip to Lithium Corporation for a tour of their manufacturing and research facilities. The society sponsored and co-sponsored many activities including providing jurors for the N.C. Student Academy of Science Research Symposium, speakers on current scientific information, and a Freshmen Chemistry Award. ACS encouraged participation in local professional meetings, presented at assembly during a school visitation, and sold T-shirt and lab coats as a service project. We are proud of the variety of projects and academic achievements of the student affiliates of ACS during 1989-90.

The purpose of the Biology Majors Club is to promote interest in biology, especially in areas of current research. It provides an opportunity for students and biology faculty, as well as other biologists to share and interact. The club also creates an awareness of opportunities, current trends, special programs, and developments in the area of biology. The activities of the club are designed to supplement and enhance the regular academic program.

Delta Mu Delta

Delta Mu Delta is a honorary business organization which was first developed in one of New York State's prestigious universities. We take pride, each semester, in inducting students with achieved grades and excellence in the business field. The chapter at High Point College began with just 10 members and is happy to note to have grown tremendously over the years.

Administrative Management Society

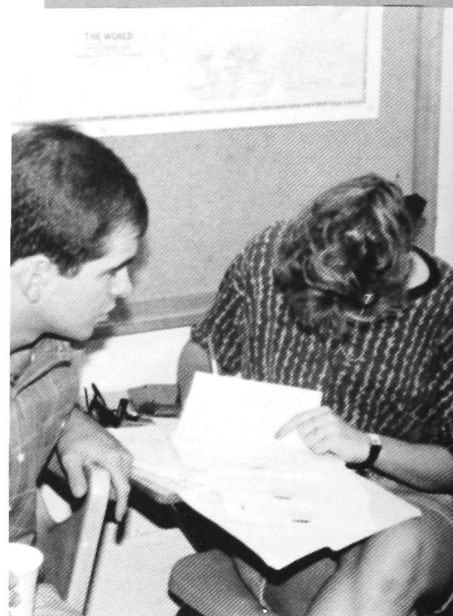

The Administrative Management Society (AMS) was formally established at High Point College in 1988. Over the last year, membership has risen from 14 to 45 members making it one of the largest organizations on campus.

AMS is currently the largest management society in the United States and Canada. It consists primarily of executives already in the business world and only recently has it adopted college chapters. So far there are over 80 college chapters in existence and 250 senior chapters. This gives students a great advantage since they can interact with people in their own field.

Last year AMS at High Point College was covered in a national management publication, MANAGEMENT WORLD. Also, two members attended The International AMS Seminar in Los Angeles, California for a week long convention. Above all, AMS is a great way to meet new people and gain valuable knowledge of the business world.

American Humanics

The American Humanics Student Association at High Point College is one of 17 selected colleges and Universities which hosts this nation-wide organization. Operating through the Department of Behavioral Sciences and Human Services, AH provides experimental learning designed to enrich the classroom instruction. AHSA provides the opportunity for the students to create social and cultural interaction with fellow students and current successful career professionals through seminars, field trips, community programs, an annual retreat, and an annual Management Institute. Since 1965, the AHSA at High Point College has been open for membership to any student at the college.

Physical Education Majors Club

The Physical Education Majors Club consists of students that are planning futures as educators, trainers, and therapists. With the wide variety of concentration, they benefit each other by communicating and exchanging ideas. All club members belong to the North Carolina Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance. This statewide organization allows the members to meet, communicate, and exchange new and innovative ideas. Through this students are able to share fundraising and campus activity ideas with other colleges in the area.

They combine their interests in acting singing, dancing, and technical work to present 3 productions a year.

Following the summer production of Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap, the 89-90 season began with a successful production of Arthur Miller's The Crucible. The season continued with Neil Simon's The Odd Couple in December, and Girl Crazy, a musical, in the spring.

College Republicans

After a brief absence from the High Point College campus, the "new and improved" College Republicans have returned. The club began the year with a few organizational meetings. The club got it's first advisor, Dr. Allen Goedeke. The club's constitution was approved and after the College officially recognized the Republicans, the officers were elected and installed. The club hopes to bring in Republican leaders to speak, as well as sponsoring occasional debates on the High Point campus.

Sigma Delta Pi

Sigma Delta Pi honors those students who attain excellence in the study of the Spanish language, literature, and culture. It allows students with a common interest in the Hispanic language to meet and participate in various activities. It also offers a chance for Spanish speaking students to exchange their ideas, concerns, problems, and knowledge. To qualify, students must have completed three years of college-level Spanish, with at least one level three class. Students must have above a 3.0 and rank in the upper 35% of their class.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

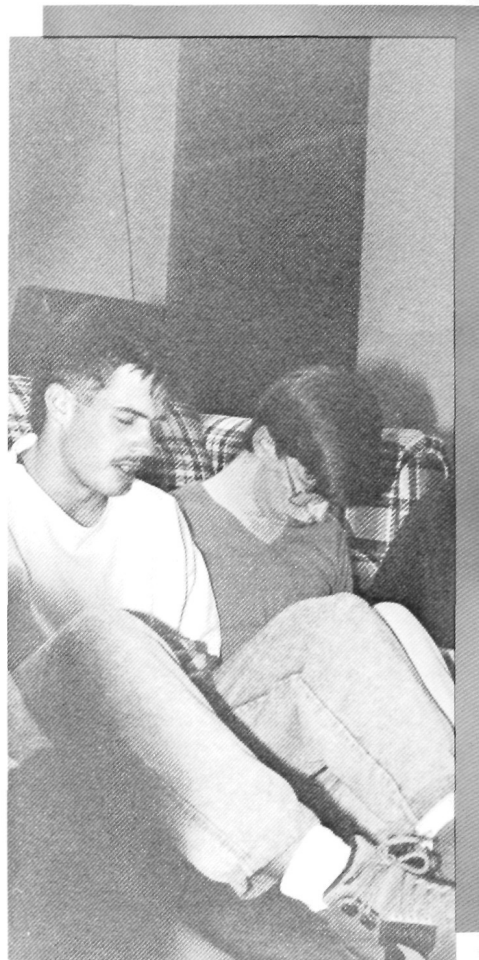

The FCA purpose is "to present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, serving him in their relationship and in the fellowship of the church." Jimmy Burchette, the club advisor, helps the students and athletes involved prepare programs for Thursday night meetings. Each Christmas, the group prepares fruit baskets to deliver to the sick in the hospital during the holidays. According to Mike Bell (President), "It doesn't matter if you are an athlete or a Christian, as long as you sweat."

Alpha Delta Theta

The Sisters of Alpha Delta Theta strive for that which is honorable and beneficial to the college and surrounding community. We have a great deal of fun and fellowship as we work together to help others. Working under the motto of "Sisters in the service of God" their philanthropy projects were at their highest. They participated in the CROP Walk and provided Halloween treats for the children at the Mills Home.

The bonds of sisterhood were not only strengthened through service projects but also through our annual fall retreat, parties, and going out to eat. There's nothing like a dance to get everyone's spirits soaring. The Yellow Rose Formal was a great evening as we celebrated our 35th Anniversary. This year we had much to celebrate such as new members, great fun, and wonderful fellowship. As a sister, you are encouraged to be yourself and challenged to be the best you can be.

Resident Assistants

The Resident Assistants are carefully selected by the faculty of Student Life. The RAs are students assigned to each residence hall to serve as counselors, information resources, they administer hall operations, and enforce the college policies and regulations. They are trained personnel who encourage individual student development and responsibility within a group living environment. They are available to assist and serve students in any way possible.

Orientation Crew

The 1989 Student Orientation Staff worked hard to get the freshman class ready for their first year of college. The Staff held meetings with the Class of 1993 to give them a better understanding of student life, High Point College, the city, and the surrounding areas. Headed by Amanda Huff, the Orientation Committee, Staff, and Advisors (Gart Evans and Pat Haun) completed the most successful Orientation yet.

Writing Fellows

Though only in its first year on the High Point College campus, the Writing Fellows program has already made several positive impressions. It is a peer tutoring program that offers a collaborative approach to teaching writing skills. The Fellows focus on student writing and strive to create an atmosphere of collaborative learning. Their comments, both in writing and conference, are designed to question students rather than criticize them, to elicit thought rather than evoke fear.

Courses followed can cover all departments. By providing writing instruction in courses not designed specifically to teach writing, the Fellows help students learn to tailor their prose to fit different writing situations. This year's Fellows were excited to be a part of this needed program and hope the excitement will spread.

Dr. Moehlmann is the advisor to the Writing Fellows.

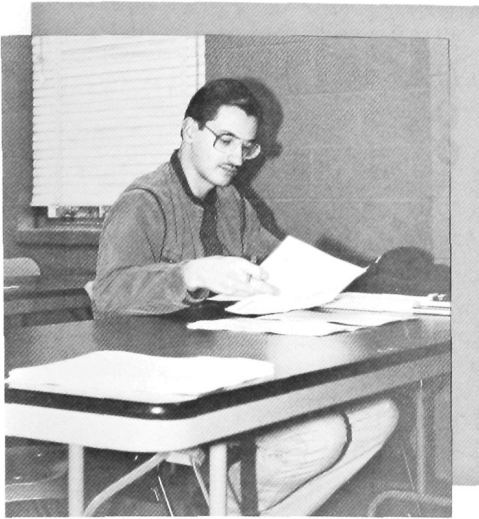

Other Opportunities for students to show their writing abilities are through the Writers Club and Apogee.

North Carolina World Trade Association

The North Carolina World Trade Association is comprised of volunteers from business and the private sector, supported by federal, state, and local government officials, educators, and others who are actively involved in reversing the United States trade deficit. The NCWTA is the largest state organization of its kind in the country.

The NCWTA officers: Derek Weygandt (President), Barbara Blake, Cyndi Marzano, Melissa Switzer. Not pictured: Kathy Cooper (Vice President).

The student affiliate chapter of High Point College offers students a chance to be exposed on a more practical level to world trade and those involved with it. Students participate in monthly meetings held in various cities throughout North Carolina.

Odyssey Club

The Odyssey Club is the official honors student organization of High Point College. The purpose of the club is to provide an extension for the promotional activities of the Honors Program and to create opportunities to enhance the cultural and intellectual interest on its members. Among the activities planned for the year are: to attend plays and other cultural events, a Christmas Party, and a College Bowl.

Presidential Scholars are chosen every year from high school seniors interested in attending college. They are chosen on their academic standing, personality, and potential to maintain high academics in college. Potential scholars are chosen by the admissions staff and must complete a two part process: first, the application phase, and second the interview process on campus always conducted in February. Those scholars finally chosen receive a scholarship. To renew these scholarships every year, a 3.0 GPA or higher must be maintained. Being a Presidential Scholar can be a rewarding experience. Not only is there an incentive to make the best grades possible, but also a chance to meet and become prospective students for the future of HPC.

Women's Tennis

With an overall record of 13-2 and an undefeated season in the conference, the Women's Tennis team had one of their best seasons in a few years. They finished second in the district, losing only to Guilford College. According to Coach Kitty Steele, "winning the conference championship was the highlight of our season. We did it through teamwork. With three seniors returning, the team was a strong one that had hopes of winning Conference, District and qualifying for Nationals as the number one team in 1990.

Cross Country

This year High Point College reintroduced a sport known to the men and introduced a new sport to the women. Cross Country returned after fourteen years to the fall sports roster. Even though Coach Davidson did not have the number of runners he wished to have he felt the season went well. The Women's team finished as co-champion in the Carolina Conference and District 26, while the Men finished second in both. Cindy Harvey, Freshman was the state runner for the Women and set the record for the 3.1 mile race in the tournament with a time of 21 minutes and 54 seconds. John High, Junior, was the Men's state runner and broke the standing record for the five mile race with a time of 25 minutes and 37 seconds. Coach Davidson hopes to start next season by recruiting new runners for the team.

Soccer

High Point College soccer recorded its best season in many years. Coach Gibson noted that the team's biggest highlight this season was winning the Conference Tournament against Belmont Abbey. The Panthers had the home field advantage as the tournament was held at High Point College this past fall.

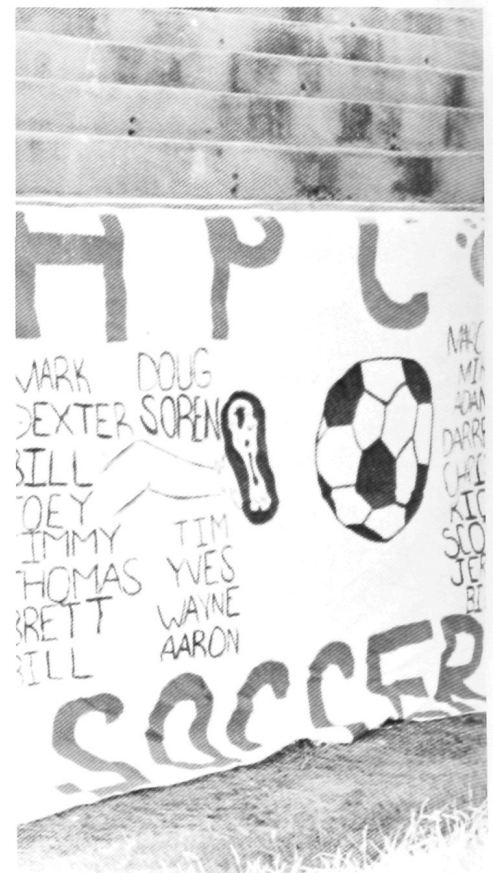

The success of the season can be attributed to the many outstanding players. Senior Dexter Gillmore set a new school record with 18 goals this past season. Adam Duff contributed 15 assists, while Yves Fischer, Junior Goal Keeper, had 12 shutouts. Junior Thomas Ingram played a good season which landed him a spot as an All-American player. The Panthers played well this season and their success is expected to carry over into the 1990 season as well.

Field Hockey

This year Coaches Kitty Steele and Leslie Clark led a young team through a season of heavy competition. Even though their record was not as good as the coaches had hoped, "this years team was undoubtedly the best team with which to work in many years." With the help of six seniors, the team made it to the Deep South Tournament. As a result of this tournament, seven players qualified for the Southeast Tournament held in Virginia Beach, VA, which is the next step towards the Nationals to be held at Catawba College. With the highest career scoring, Julie Taylor was voted team MVP.

Volleyball

Under the coaching skills of Joe Ellenburg and Nancy Dorn, HPC Volleyball had an impressive season this fall. The biggest high of the season was winning the conference tournament. Jimena Vargas, senior and Carolina's Conference Player-of-the-Year, helped a relatively young squad to a 6-0 regular season record. Denise Bickley and Michelle Okerlin, seniors, also made outstanding contributions to team play. The future only holds high hope for Ellenburg, Dorn, and company.

Panther players wait eagerly in anticipation for the rebound.

Men's Basketball

The Panthers, the first team in history to win the Carolina Conference Tournament three years in a row, were optimistic about the 1989-90 basketball season. Winning the conference tournament for a fourth consecutive year was the Panther's goal this season.

With the assistance of Mike Everett, Coach Steele, got the team off to a great start with 2 tournament victories. Their first major victory was the Catawba Civitan Thanksgiving Tournament and then at Christmas they won the Annual Freeport Shootout Tournament in the Bahamas. All-Conference in 1989-90, senior George Byers was voted MVP at the Freeport Shootout.

The team as a whole has played hard this season. The Panthers averaged about 77.6 points per game and played well offensively. With a little more experience under their belts, the Panthers should have a successful future ahead of them.

The Panthers move in for the rebound.

"They never quit. They continue to play hard after winning big in the last four years." Coach Steele

Women's Basketball

The Lady Panthers brought a new enthusiasm to the court this year. With four returning players and six newcomers, the team battled hard to earn a great season record. Seniors Tracy McIver and Annette Lawson built the team a strong foundation and helped the girls find that winning spark. The season highlight, according to Coach Ellenberg, was beating Lenoir Rhyne, the team's rival. This was the first time the Ladies beat Lenoir Rhyne in four years. The team used the working together system and winning intensity to make the '89-'90 season the best.

Row 1: Tracy McIver, Maxine Monroe, Sharon Doby, Toni Rizzitelli, Rebecca Brown, Heather Moore. Row 2: Angie Fortner, Ingrid Hendrix, Charlotte Totulis, Sharon Hill, Jean Canady, Annette Lawson, Arlene King, Lenora Henry.

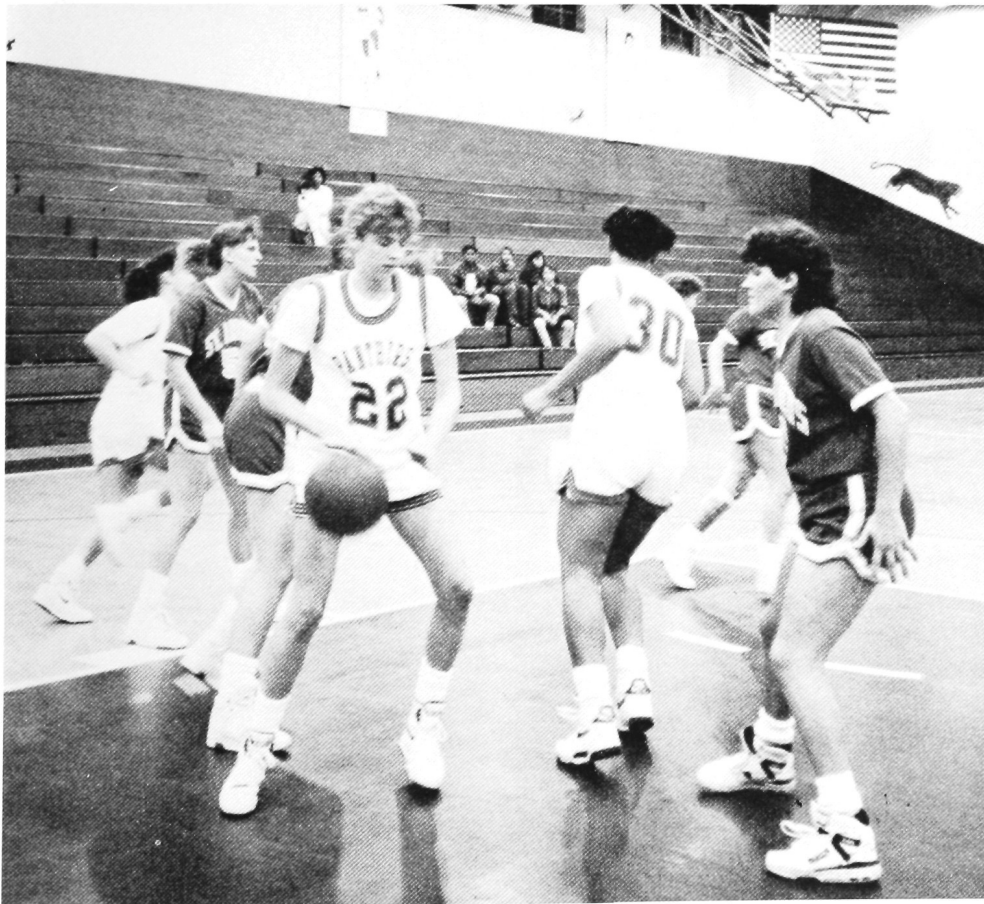

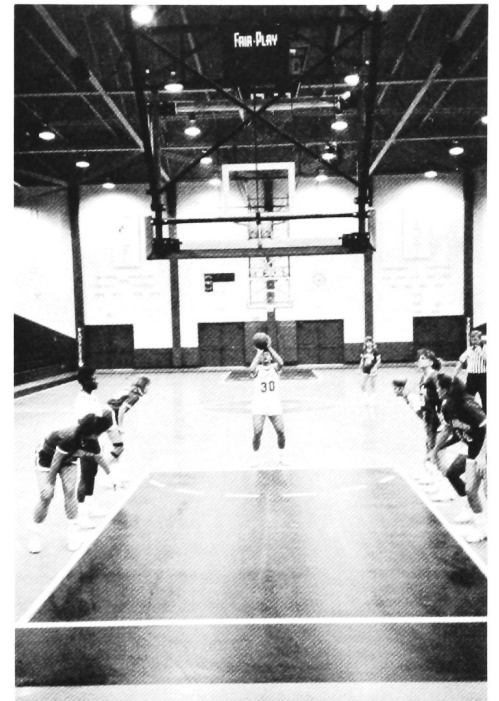

"Our goal is to bring in three quality players which would allow us to contend for a conference championship next year." — Dr. Joe Ellenburg.

Freshman Charlotte Totulis catches the rebound and heads for the other end of the court.

HPC Cheerleaders

The 1989-90 Cheerleading Squad, led by Advisor Nancy Dorn, had a fun-filled year. The eight girls sported their panther spirit and pride at all the men's and women's basketball games. Before they could get out and cheer the team to a victory, there was much practicing to be done. The girls practiced four times a week and cheered twice a week.

Anissa Yates, now in her second year as captain, plans to expand the size of the squad, and eventually add men to the squad. After a slow start and a few revisions, the cheerleaders made the squad the best yet and were behind the Panthers all the way.

The Track team worked hard last season and was rewarded by winning the Conference and District, for the second consecutive year. The 400 meter relay team went to nationals and long jumper Chip Shea finished eighth. John High was chosen MVP by the team. Coach Davidson hopes to strengthen the sprinters he has left and feels that the shot putters, discus, and javelin throwers will pull the team together.

Baseball

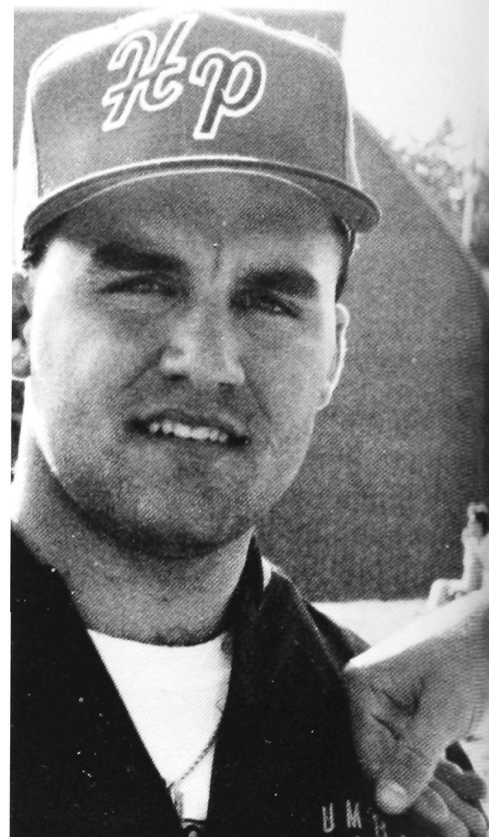

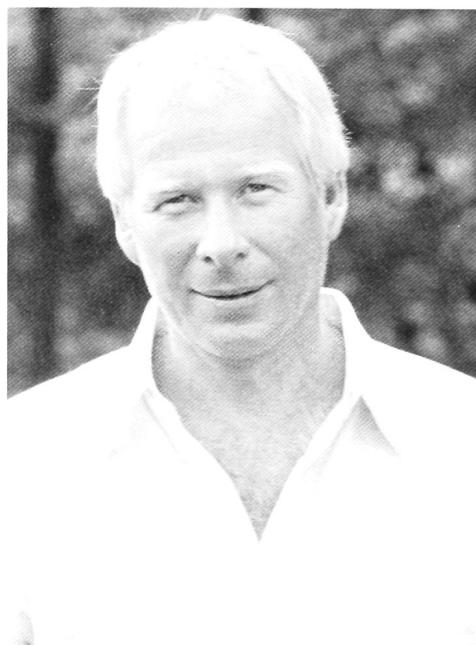

The 1989 Baseball team made tremendous progress during the season. Coach Speight commented that the season high was the Atlantic Christian game which HPC won to advance to the NAIA District 26 tournament. With the help of Chris Chatterton and Bill Wilson took a weak beginning and made a successful season of play.

Men's Tennis

In their second year with Coach Ray Alley, the Panthers have shown tremendous improvement over the past season. Last year they ended the season with a 13-5 record, a complete turn-around from the 1988 season.

This was primarily a building season for the team. The team is young and with more experience, they should be able to hold their own. There is one Senior, Pasi Makinen, who was injured last season but returned to lend his strength and experience for another year. Three other key players were sophomores Adam Thomson, Kevin Hudson, and Patrick Shramm.

Good health was the key to the Panthers' success this season. They played well and gained valuable experience. The highlight of the season was their Spring Break trip to Hilton Head, SC to compete in the Annual College Tournament where they had the opportunity to play against several Division I schools.

The Panthers had a successful season on 1989. Despite a particularly rainy season, they took third place in the Carolinas Conference, and had a good chance at the top three spots again this year. Seven team members returned to the squad. The only lost player was Drew Smith, team MVP for 1989.

With the seven returnees and four newcomers, the Panthers were optimistic about the season. Last year, they had three freshmen and one sophomore in their top five seeds. The lack of experience was a problem, but with another year behind them, they showed improvement this year.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the four sororities at High Point College. This year the Panhellenic Council had to adjust to new rush period, the time for sororities to recruit future 'sisters.' Spring Rush gave the sororities a chance to become closer as well as giving the prospective rushees the opportunity to know how the Greek system works. Panhell sponsored many programs to keep the sororities active. Rush open house and the sorority movie night were both very successful. Panhell promotes favorable relations with the administration, faculty, and student body by sponsoring study breaks and openhouses.

Panhellenic sponsored an open house in the fall for prospective rushees.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu was out in full force this year showing their colors all over campus! With the help of the Alumni Advisory Council, working hard once again, we had more contact with our Alumni than ever before. The sisters worked hard to support their two national philanthropies — Project Hope and The Children's Miracle Network. They looked forward to certain annual events such as the Sisters' Weekend, Champagne Sundays, and Phi Mu Weekend.

Phi Mu is looking their finest for their annual Sisters' Dance.

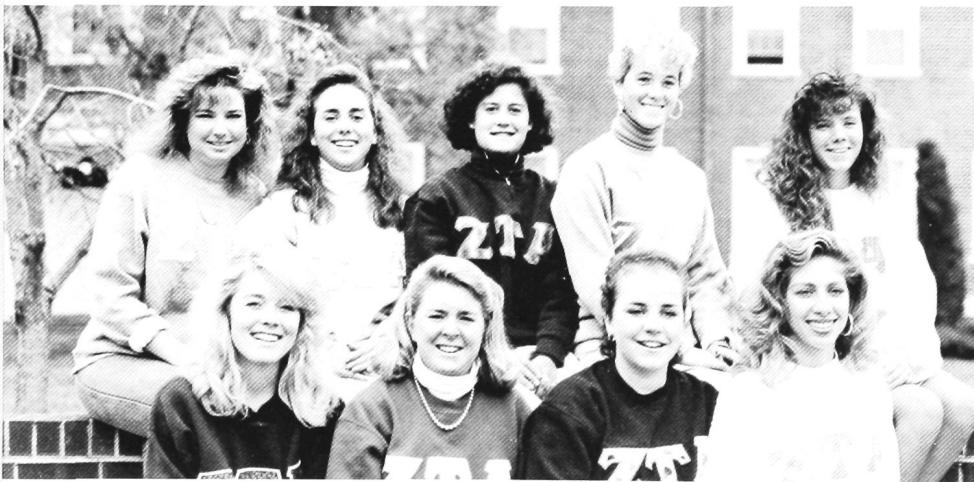

Zeta Tau Alpha

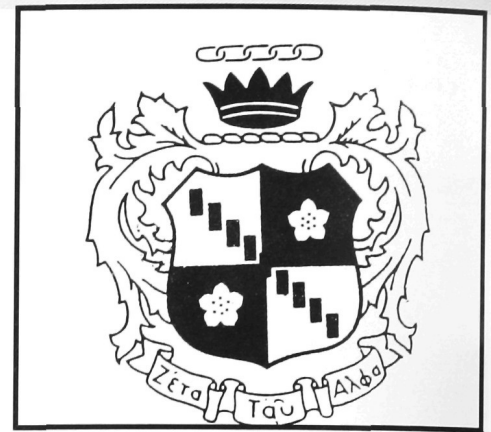

Zeta sisterhood is forever. Together, we share a special friendship. Each sister is an individual, but together we make up a unique group. This year we supported our philanthropy, the Association for Retarded Citizens, we sent relief water to Hurricane Hugo victims in Charleston, and participated in a field day with physically and mentally disabled children. We also took part in many HPC activities such as SGA, Student Union, the cheerleading squad, the volleyball and field hockey teams, the Hi-Po, Tower Players, the radio station, and the Homecoming Court. Together as sisters, we look forward to many dances including our special 100th Link Ball, weekend retreats, mixers, work projects, special birthday dinners, and ZTA State Day. Sisterhood in ZTA is a chance to share the unique closeness of Zeta Love . . . and best of all — ZTA is Forever!

Alpha Gamma Delta

The Alpha Gam family is one that will last "Through the Years." Being as one creates the love that Alpha Gamma Delta shares. The Gams are involved in many organizations on campus such as, SGA, Student Union, American Humanics, and the Young Republicans. The sorority continuously rises money for its philanthropy, the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Although the Gams concentrate on academics and campus activities, there is room for a social calendar. Alpha Gamma Delta celebrated its 35th year at High Point College with an entire weekend set aside for their anniversary. The events that the sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta experience are what keeps them together "Through the years."

Kappa Delta

The Kappa Deltas of Gamma Gamma Chapter prove that we are "unique but united" as our involvement in campus activities, victory in intramural sports, and other awards and recognition make us shine above the rest. Our many fundraisers supported our philanthropy for the National Committee on the Prevention of Child Abuse. On Halloween, we sponsored a party for the children at the YMCA, and the following weekend we were proud to have a Kappa Delta as HPC's Homecoming Queen. WE looked forward to a successful RUSH in January amidst all our studies and activities. Our awesome bond of sisterhood continued to thrive through our involvement together and we're proud to be Kappa Delta! "Let us strive!"

Lambda Chi Alpha

The Iota Phi Zeta Chapter had its most successful year in the chapter's history. Through the dedication and hard work of every member, Iota Phi remains a model chapter in the fraternal world.

The Bruce Hunter McIntosh Award for Chapter Excellence was presented to us at the National Leadership Seminar at Ohio State last summer. This was the first time Lambda Chi Alpha had ever received such an award. Last year, with the help of a strong athletics chairman and devoted teams, the fraternity was named intramural champions for the year.

The strongest part of our fraternity is its commitment to excellence and strong sense of brotherly love. We have a top notch faculty advisor, Dr. Ron Ramke, and a totally committed alumni advisor, Gary Cooper. Through determination and hard work over the years, Lambda Chi Alpha is a chapter every member can be proud of.

Just say the word & Frank, Louis, Kenny, & Pee Wee are ready to party.

Delta Sigma Phi

Delta Sigma Phi, the gentleman's fraternity, entered 1989 with a great deal of pride. With fifteen new brothers in February and three in November, we looked forward to 1990 and Spring Rush.

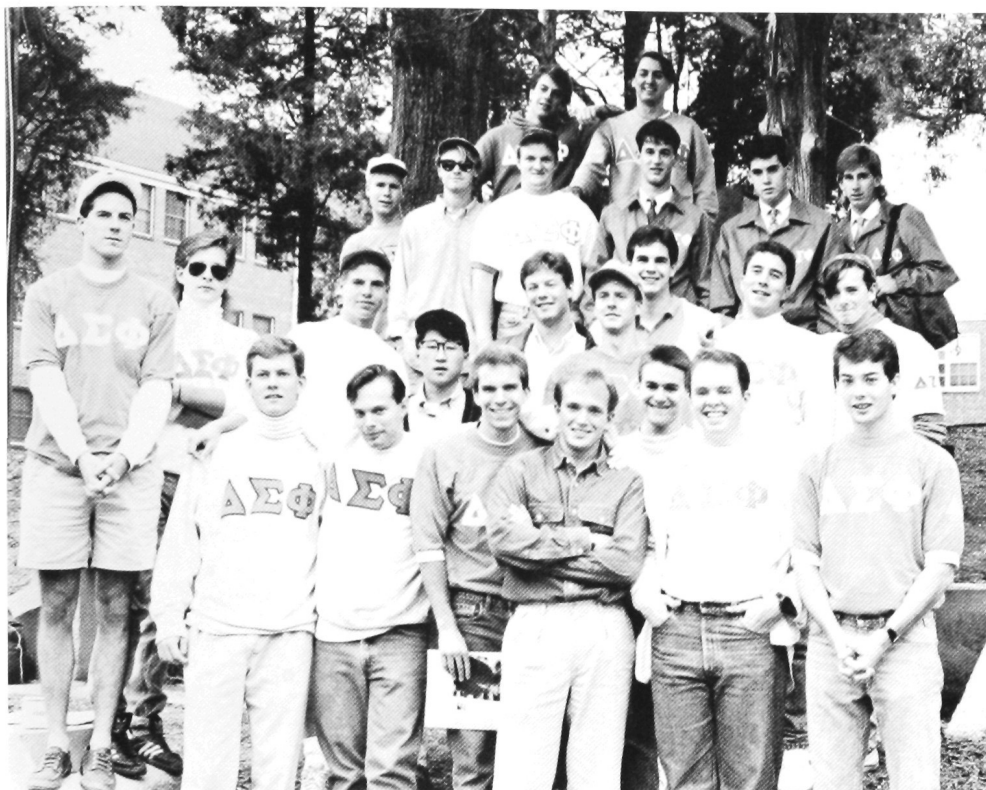

Delta Sigma Phi was founded on December 10, 1899 at the City College of New York, and our chapter, Delta Zeta, was founded on April 7, 1957. Our colors are green and white, and our charity is the March of Dimes. The fraternity symbols are the pyramid and the sphinx.

CAEP

In 1979, High Point College initiated the an evening degree program on its main campus. One year later, the program began serving R.J. Reynolds employees on site in Winston-Salem. In January of 1987, the Winston-Salem division moved into the Madison Park branch office which was erected by High Point College.

The Continuing Adult Education Program, which currently enrolls over 650 students, offers a choice of five majors. Those majors are Accounting, Business Administration and Economics, Computer Information Systems, Industrial and Organizational Psychology, and Psychology. The program offers students a chance to earn credit by attending classes three nights a week during an eight week session.

Over the last decade, CAEP has grown tremendously. In the coming decade, High Point College hopes to see an even larger interest in the program. With its predicted popularity they hope to add more majors and possibly expand the Madison Park branch.

Faculty & Staff

There are certain people from college we, as students, will never forget. The list is long and usually includes friends, and enemies. Do faculty and staff members make this list? They sure hope to make it, and they hope it is near the top. However, that's not always the case.

The faculty and staff at High Point College are a unique group, and like the students, they have different opinions of HPC. Yet, this is the diversity that a college needs to be a special place. Think . . . what college would be like without these people. The faculty and staff are not just that, over a period of time, they become great friends and some even begin to feel like family. But, isn't that what college is — one big, new family?!? So when we look back on our years at HPC, let's remember the good with the bad because in many cases, a faculty or staff member was there to help us through all of those times.

Then and Now

Have you ever stopped to think about what High Point College was like in the 1940's, '50s, '60s, or '70s? Well, if you ever have any questions just ask one of the many faculty members who graduated from HPC. Believe it or not, there are 21 alumni who are now working for the college. Do you think their rules were as strict as ours seem? We complain about the visitation hours and the escort policy,

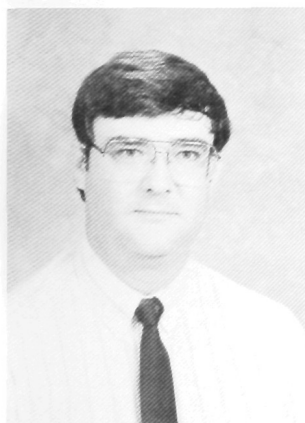

But . . .

Could you Imagine . . .

-  Room inspection every morning at 9:30?
-  No cooking, ironing, bathing or doing laundry after 11pm?
-  Lights out at 11pm? (Seniors were excused.)
-  Mandatory study hours from 7:15 to 9pm, Mon.-Fri.?
-  Asking SGA for permission to spend the night out of your room?
-  No phone call longer than five minutes?
-  No phone calls after 10pm — except for long distance?
-  Attending chapel everyday for 30 minutes and church every Sunday?
-  Wearing socks or hose at all times on campus or uptown?
-  No running water after 11pm?

These rules were stated in the 1941-42 S.G.A. "Girl's Guide". By the way, we couldn't find a "Boy's Guide"!!!

Mr. Cope currently works in the Behavioral Science Department. He recalls many things about his years at HPC. During the early 1960s students were required to attend monthly cultural programs. It was also a time of much student activism. The students attempted to establish a student/faculty/administrative congress which would serve as the governing body of the school.

Dean Davis served as the 1960-61 S.G.A. President, and he recollects the freshmen beanie, or "skull cap," as it was affectionately known. The beanie had to be worn from the beginning of the semester until Thanksgiving break! Davis is now the Dean of the College.

Dean Gart Evans Class of 1975

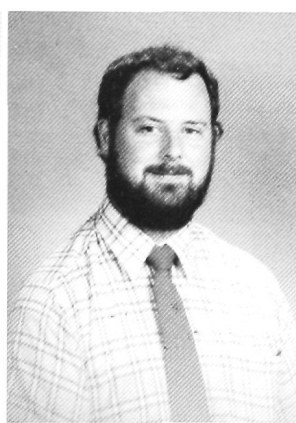

Dean Evans was the 1974-75 S.G.A. President, and he remembers the "streakers" at HPC. Believe it or not! Cars were backed up all the way to College Village because they wanted to catch a glimpse of the streakers on the loose! Evans is presently the Dean of Students.

Dr. Bowman remembers many things about his years as a student at HPC. He recalls that tuition was $350.00 a semester, the males worked hard to maintain good grades (They were drafted to VietNam if their GPA fell below a 2.0), but his most memorable experience was meeting his future wife, Anita. Dr. Bowman is a professor in the Physical Science Department.

Mr. David Holt Class of 1955

Mr. Holt recalls the traditions of HPC. Many of them have disappeared over the years and have been replaced by new ones. During Homecoming weekend, there were parades with floats from the different organizations on campus. Also gone from the High Point College tradition is the May Court. This was something similar to the Homecoming court, only the big ceremony took place around something called a May pole. Mr. Holt is currently the Registrar at High Point College.

Memories of HPC: Dr. James Stitt Class of 1967

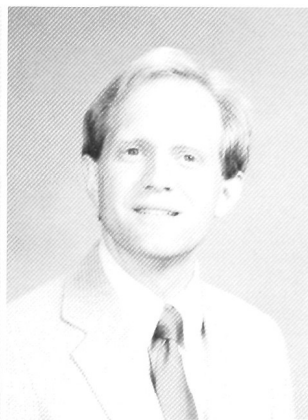

Dr. Stitt transferred to HPC as a junior. He remembers five of his closest buddies who also transferred to High Point from different junior colleges. Together they were active in different intramural sports, particularly football. He recalls that not many students had cars on campus which meant the campus activities were the social scene. Stitt was also active in the Young Democrats Club. He is currently a Political Science/History instructor at HPC.

Probably his most memorable experience, outside of meeting his future wife, was the dreadful freshmen beanie because he got caught without his and was fined! Dr. Ward is now a biology professor here at High Point College.

Orientation '89

A day you will never forget — that dreaded first day of High Point College. At first, it seemed like no one was on your side, even Mom and Dad were leaving you. Many times you were lonely, and of course, you were the only one, but in reality, there were many more like you. The one thing that did help was orientation and the Student Staff that went along with it. Even though the meetings were boring, you must admit that every little bit helped in the adjustment of leaving home for an adventure into the unknown.

Orientation at High Point College took on a different look this year. The Staff and Core both changed their names. Formerly the Orientation Crew, the name became Student Orientation Staff, SOS for short. The Core Leaders became the Orientation Committee. With Mandy Huff's guidance and spirit, the staff made it through that early morning mandatory breakfast and took the Class of '93 under their wing to start them down a long road of great HPC memories.

During Freshman Orientation, SOS sponsored several events between the mandatory meetings. The first afternoon there was a picnic in the Smith Library Courtyard. Entertainment was provided by a juggler. That same evening the Club Coca-Cola dance took place in the Harrison Gym. Sunday night SOS put on the annual beach party at the local YMCA.

Play Review

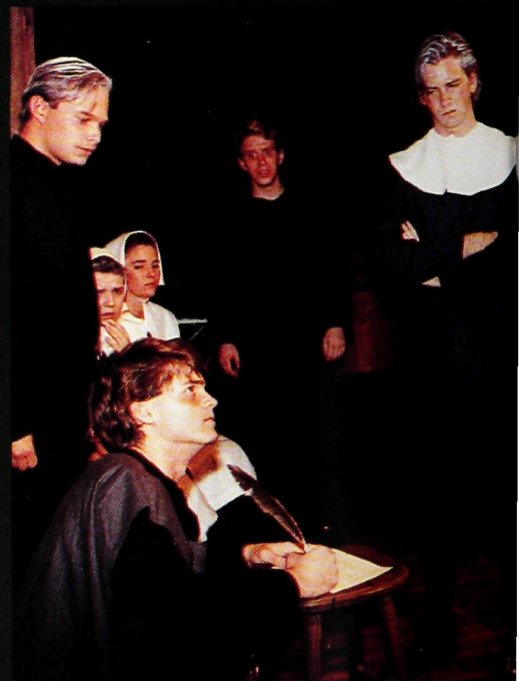

Harvey

Harvey is a fictional play about a man who finds delight in his "pal", Harvey, an invisible 6 ft. white rabbit. His friends try to commit him to an asylum, with much distress. After a while, all go crazy with trying to commit him.

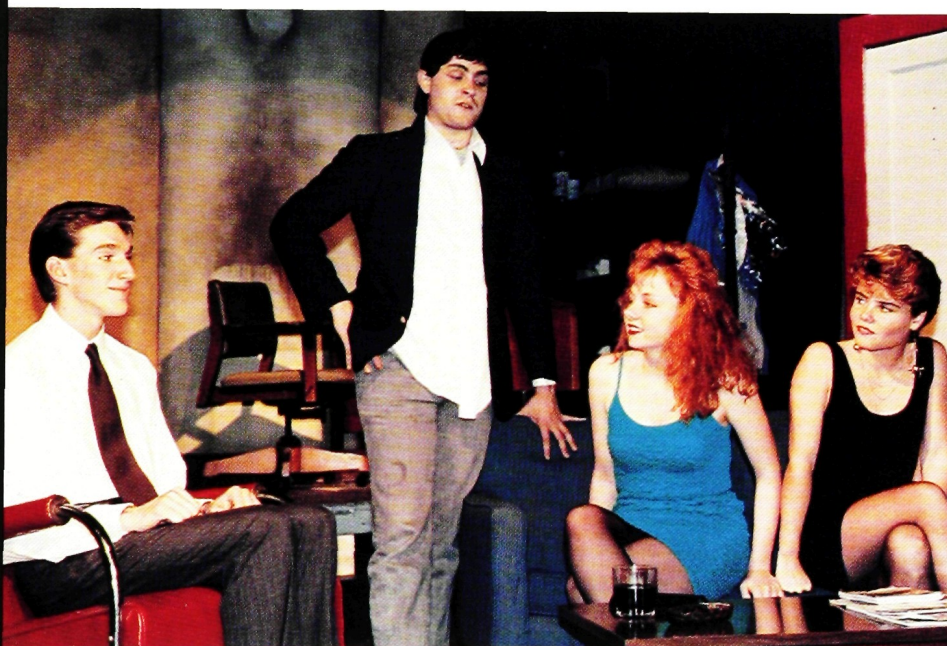

The Crucible

This play takes place in Salem, Massachusetts where a young girl is found to be possessed with the devil. Hidden secrets keep others from finding out the reason for the young girl's illness. As time goes on the secrets are revealed and the truth is made known. The town has been shaken up over the whole ordeal to the extent of tearing practically everyone's family apart. In the end not only is John Proctor accused of being the child of the devil and for committing adultery with Abigail Williams but is sentenced to a guilty verdict.

The Odd Couple

The story takes place in Oscar's apartment where all the guys are joined at playing cards, Oscar is divorced and by the look of the messy apartment it's no wonder why his wife left him. Felix, the last to arrive, has just been separated from his wife also. The guy is so shaken up that his friends are reluctant to let him go to the bathroom by himself for fear he might commit suicide. The two traumatized friends end up bunking together. Their living arrangement proves their failures in their marriages. Even though the situation is quite sad, the comedy side keeps one laughing.

Homecoming

Dancing On The Ceiling

Many events take place during the year, but none as exciting as Homecoming. Every year the students of High Point College gather for one weekend of fun and dancing.

On Friday, November 3, 1989, Student Union kicked off its Homecoming festivities with the annual Talent Show, held in the Memorial Auditorium.

Co-ordinated by Leah Chappell, this year's Talent Show was the best yet. First place went to Sea Otter's Cabbage, a four man acoustic band. The highlight of the show, was 6 year old Latoya Williams, who danced to "Fight the Power", by Public Enemy. The Masters of Ceremony, Al Arrigoni and Kathy Hughes got the crowd involved and showed definite enthusiasm towards the show. Everyone involved with the show had an extraordinary experience.

On Saturday, November 4, 1989, the annual Homecoming Dance was held at Top of the Mart. Student Union sponsored the dance and live music was provided by Marble Faun. There was excitement in the air when Ron Dalton, Student Union advisor, announced the history making tie for First Runner-up. Kathleen Mudd, who represented Kappa Delta, and Stacy DePew, who represented Alpha Gamma Delta, shared this honor. The biggest excitement of the night was when Carrie-Lyn Hobson, who represented Lambda Chi Alpha, was crowned the 1989 Homecoming Queen. The dance was well attended by many alumni, faculty, and current students.

HPC has World Wide Appeal . . .

Each year several students from High Point College have the opportunity to participate in study abroad programs in England and France. HPC offers two programs in England, one at Leeds and one in London. The Leeds program offers a junior year abroad to students with a 3.0 or higher GPA. Theresa Shea and Kristi Hunnecutt represented HPC at Leeds University. The Spring Semester program in London requires a 2.5 or higher GPA. Anne Mosca, Marni Cohen, Charles Popper and John Smith participated in this program in conjunction with Elon College.

Across the Chanel in France, Sharyn Sazama studied for a year at the University of Montpellier, Paul Valery was in the South of France. Sharyn's program was available through Westchester University in Pennsylvania. There is also a Spring Semester in Paris offered through Guilford College. Last Spring Alda Zumot, Thomas Duez, and Michelle Durfee represented HPC.

HPC promotes study abroad because it is a valuable learning experience which includes much more than just classroom academics. When asked about her year abroad, Kristi Hunnecutt responded enthusiastically, "I wouldn't trade the experience of sharing the British culture for anything. I learned so much about myself and my own country as well as Great Britain." Sharyn Sazama was equally as enthusiastic saying, "Being abroad really gave me self-reliance and a sense of independence. I hope to return in May to pursue graduate studies."

Current Events

A Fight for Freedom

In May of 1989, thousands of students crowded the streets of Beijing, China to protest the communist ruling of their country. It first began as a harmless protest, but as the number of protesters grew, so did the hostilities from the government. Military troops were sent into the city to clear the people from the streets. The 3-week old protest ended in bloodshed. Thousands of protesters lost their lives in what was called the Tienpan Square Masacre.

On August 22, 1984, Gregory Lee Johnson participated in the burning of an American flag during the Republican National Convention in Dallas as part of a political protest. He was later arrested, charged with the "desecration of a venerated object," and sentenced to one year in prison and a $2000 fine. Nearly five years later, through the system of appeals, the case of Texas vs. Johnson was being heard by the Justices of the US Supreme Court. Their later decision to protect flag-burning under the first ammendment has caused much controversial turmoil and debate.

Natural Disasters

In September, high winds and heavy rains abused the Southeast Coast of the Atlantic. This brutal storm was affectionally known as Hurricane Hugo. The most damage was done in Charleston, SC. Hugo flattened thousands of residential homes and destroyed most of the historical downtown district. Also hard hit by the storm was Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, and the Bahamas. Here in High Point, many trees were knocked down over power lines and telephone lines.

After two victories over the San Francisco Giants, the Oakland A's were well on their way to winning the 1989 World Series when a devastating earthquake struck the San Francisco Bay Area on October 17, 1989, just minutes before Game Three of the Series was to begin. Despite the shocking reality of what was going on around them and a ten day delay before the series resumed play, the A's went on to sweep the series in four games.

Abortion

Abortion . . . is there a modern solution for an ancient problem? Is it right or wrong? Who makes the decision? Earlier this year, the US Supreme Court was faced with the decision of either upholding Roe v. Wade or of outlawing abortion. The final decision was not national but was to allow each state to decide. Where the issue of abortion is headed to is undetermined. Only Time holds the answers.

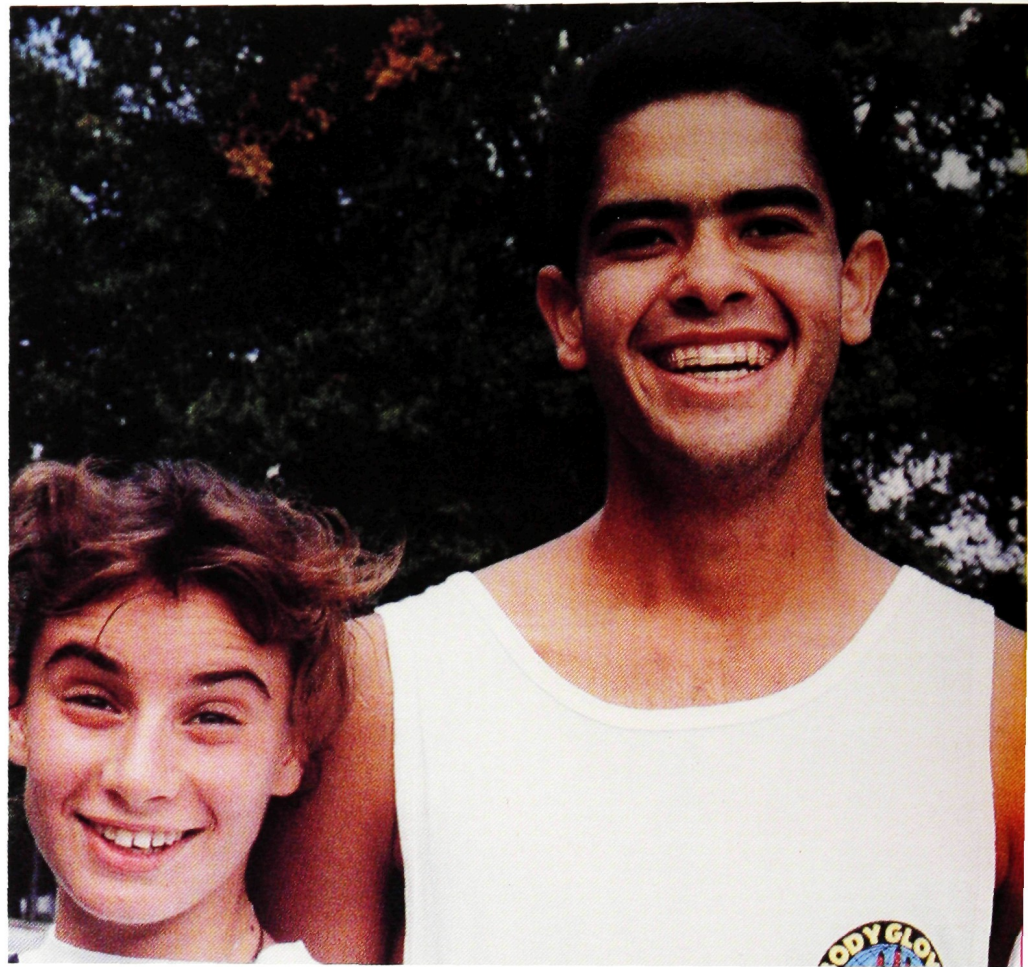

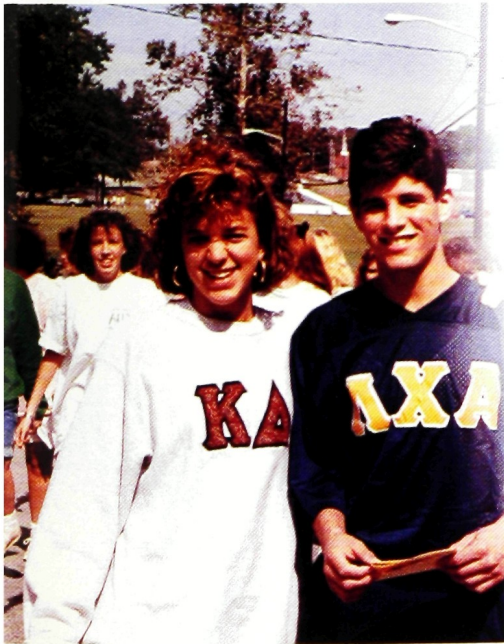

HPC '89 CROP WALK

On a sunny September afternoon over 100 High Point College students gathered together to participate in the college's first annual CROP Walk. The walk was sponsored by S.G.A. and the Office of Student Life in conjunction with the local Urban Ministries.

What exactly is CROP? It raises money to help stop world hunger. Seventy-five percent of the money goes overseas to the different third world nations and the other 25% stays in the community. In High Point, the money goes to aid the homeless shelter, the Father's Table. High Point College students together raised nearly a thousand dollars.

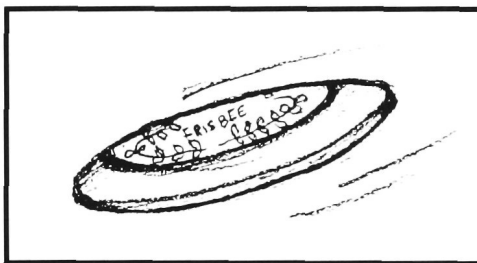

There were several organizations represented in the CROP Walk. Those groups participating were Kappa Delta Sorority, Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, Zeta Tau Alpha Fraternity, Theta Chi Fraternity, the International Club, Alpha Delta Theta, and GET HIP. Sunday September 29, the day of the walk, proved to be a beautiful day and a lot of fun for everyone who was involved.

Ultimate Frisbee Flies into Action

On any given afternoon the first few weeks of school, the intramural field is the place to be. Whether you're out there to participate or watch Ultimate Frisbee — HPC's most popular intramural sport — you're bound to have a great time. This year, the sunny days helped make Ultimate even more exciting. The teams were all terrific sports — disregarding records!! Everyone was well represented from the fraternities to the independent team, The Oystermen. The most exciting games were the playoffs. This year the Sig-B team beat the Pika-A team. This was the first time a B team has done this, and the Championships matched the Sig-A team against the Theta Chi-A team. After a very exciting game, the Theta Chi team became the 1989 Frisbee Champs.

The Winners

1st place: Theta Chi
 2nd place: Delta Sigma Phi
 3rd place: Lambda Chi Alpha

Greek Week '89

Last spring the Greeks battled it out amongst themselves in the 1989 Greek Week. Each fraternity was paired up with a sorority for the occasion. Together they participated in events such as tug-of-war, field games, jeopardy, letters switching, and a pie-eating contest.

The objective of the week was to build stronger unity between the Greeks and to promote school spirit. The week ended with a big Greek bash at Country Roads. A good time was had by all and the week was a success.

Entertainment Review

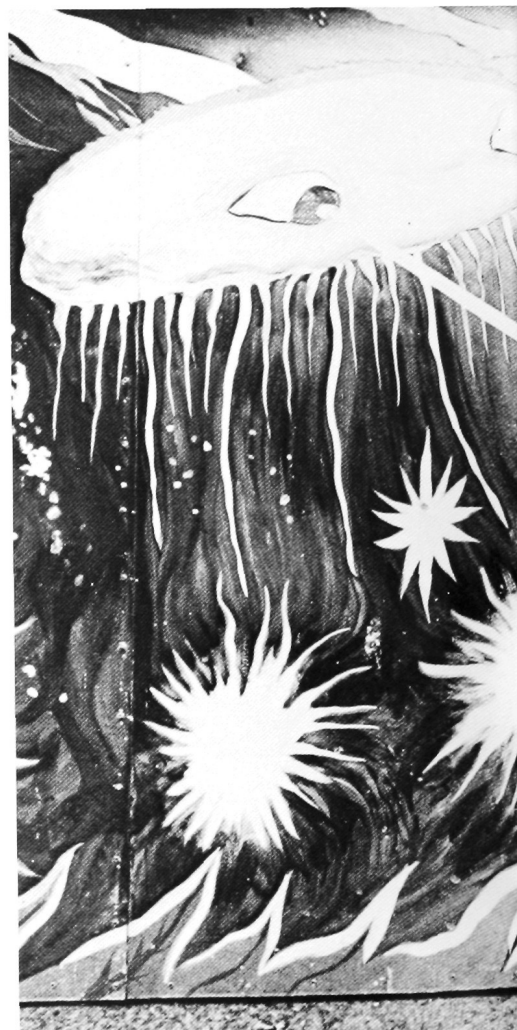

Alex Cole, Oct. 28, 1989

Entertainment at High Point College was easy to find this year. From Comedians to lectors, everyone could find his own point of interest. The year was kicked off with the traditional Orientation Party held in Harrison Hall. The Freshmen, and those select upperclassmen, were treated to Club Coca-Cola, a video DJ type dance. The following weekend, once all the upperclassmen were back, Student Union sponsored the annual Welcome Back Dance. This year, "Innovations" provided a blend of dance favorites for the party. Throughout the rest of the year, Student Union sponsored many great musical acts (Earthwood, Ashley Cleveland, and Livingston Taylor), as well as, some terrific comedians (Don Reed, Alex Cole, and Emo Phillips). All in all, this year's entertainment turned out to be the best we've had in a long time!!

History Review on the City of High Point

High Point, North Carolina is the sixth largest city in the state. The name, High Point, came from a surveyor of the North Carolina Railroad. The city was so named because in the 1800's it was the highest point on the railroad.

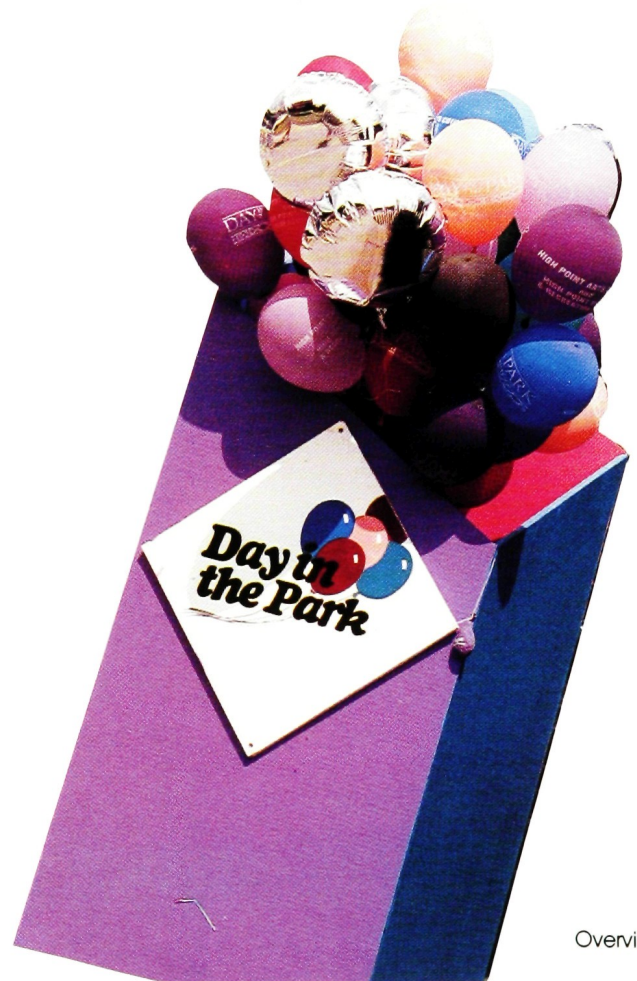

By the turn of the century, the railroad was the lifeline of the city, and as a result, High Point became a major manufacturing center. The success and growth of High Point is due to young entrepreneurs, such as Tom Wrenn, J.H. Tate, and E.A. Snow. They joined forces to form the High Point Furniture Company in 1888. Furniture manufactures were attracted to the city because of the abundance of hard woods, the good transportation facilities, and the availability of labor. By 1900, there were 33 manufactures present in the city.

High Point began to expand to other business in the early 1900's. The first hosiery mill began production in 1904, which followed the opening of Wachovia Bank & Trust Company in 1902. A commercial club formed in 1915 to serve business and social purposes. In 1919, it became the Chamber of Commerce. In 1917, an 8 man police force began patrol, and an 18 man fire department began protecting the city.

In 1924, a dream held for years in the hearts and minds of High Point residents became a reality. High Point College was built and opened for both men and women.

In 1963, High Point was named the "All American City." Since then, High Point has continued to grow and prosper. It still remains a major city within the U.S. and is considered the Furniture and Hosiery Capital of the World.

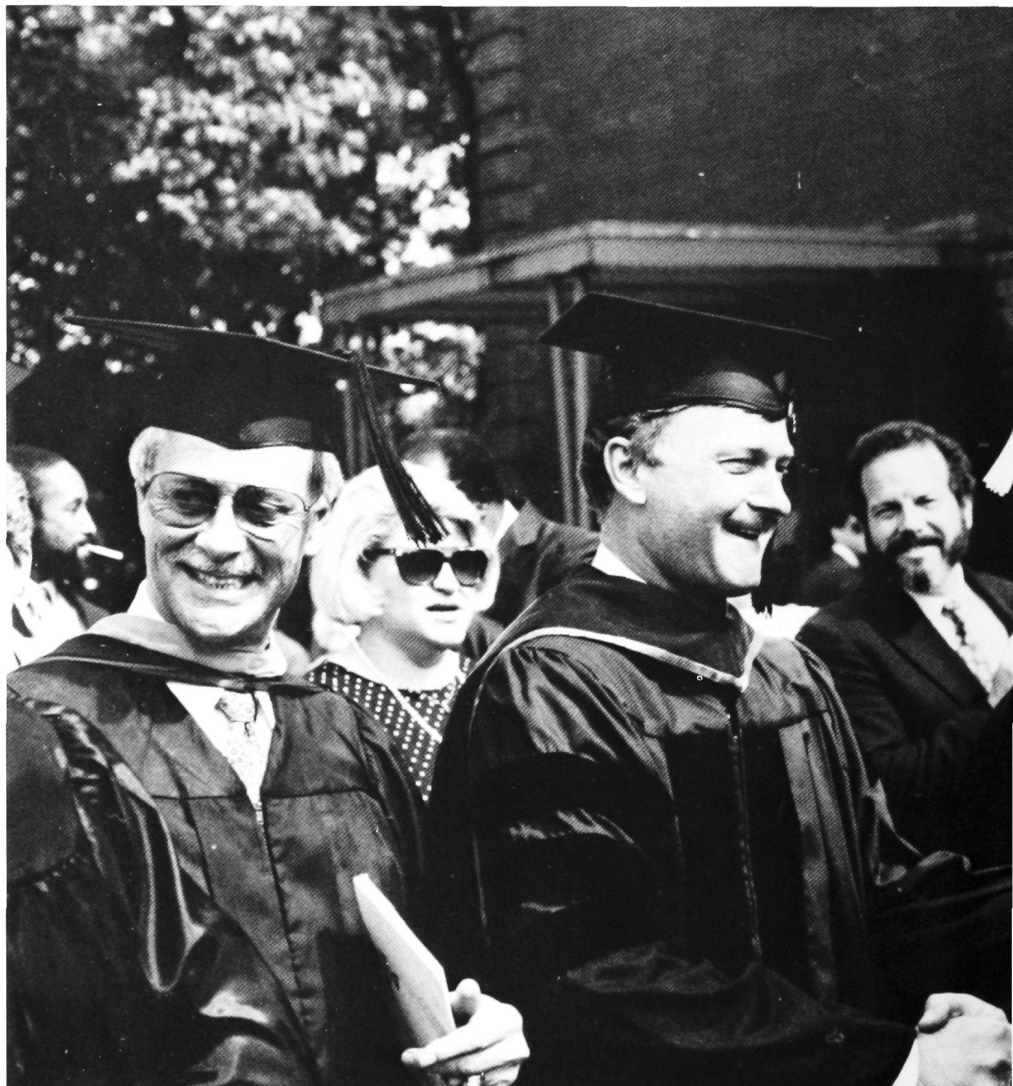

Tornado Sends Class of '89 Out in a Whirlwind

Traditionally set for the front lawn of the Wrenn Building, Commencement exercises for the Class of 1989 had to be moved inside the Alumni Gym due to the tornado that struck the night before the event. High winds and heavy rains knocked down telephone lines and left most of the High Point area without power. Repair crews were up most of the night working to restore the power for Saturday's Graduation.

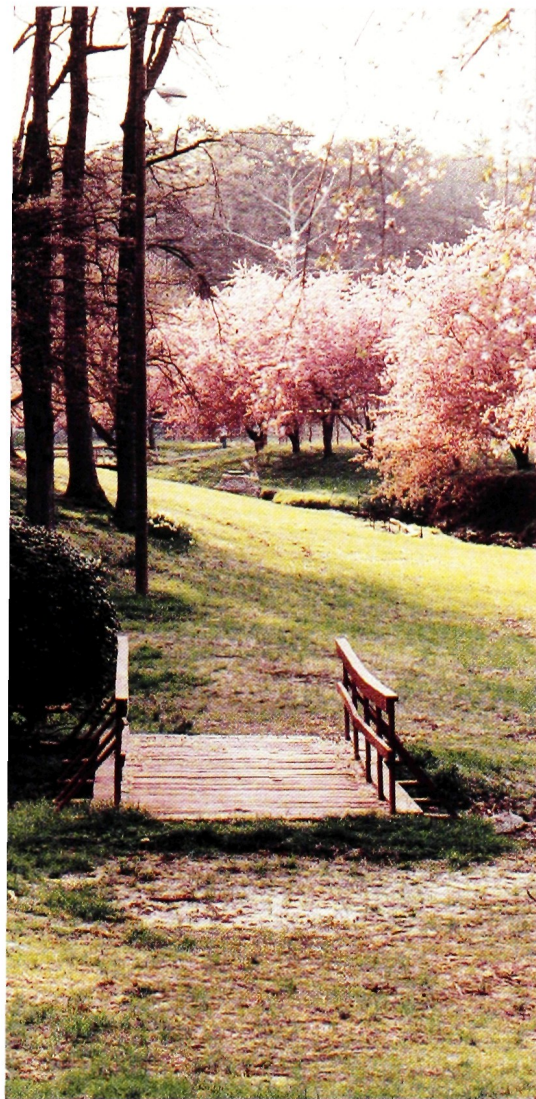

On May 6, 1989, High Point College graduated 319 students, the largest class ever. Of these 319 graduates, 211 were awarded bachelor of science degrees, and 108 were awarded bachelor of art degrees. Forty-six students graduated with academic honors. Along with honoring the graduates on their achievements, High Point College recognized two of its well-known and much loved professors. Dr. Cole, a Professor of History, and Dr. Weeks, a Professor of Biology, both announced their retirements last year. During Commencement, both were honored for their services to HPC. Despite the weather, Commencement '89 turned out to be a success.

Graduation Day May 6, 1989

*Sitting at my desk,
 I glance out the window.
 I see things . . .
 the trees, dogwoods and pines,
 the flowers, irises and daffodils,
 swaying back and forth
 in a gentle breeze.
 These things we take for granted.
 These things are a sign of Spring,
 yet it's cold.
 No one can explain the weather
 or why it changes.
 And, we still don't know why humans
 go through change.
 The theory of change may never be found,
 but we must accept it.
 And, we must try to survive —
 CHANGE.*

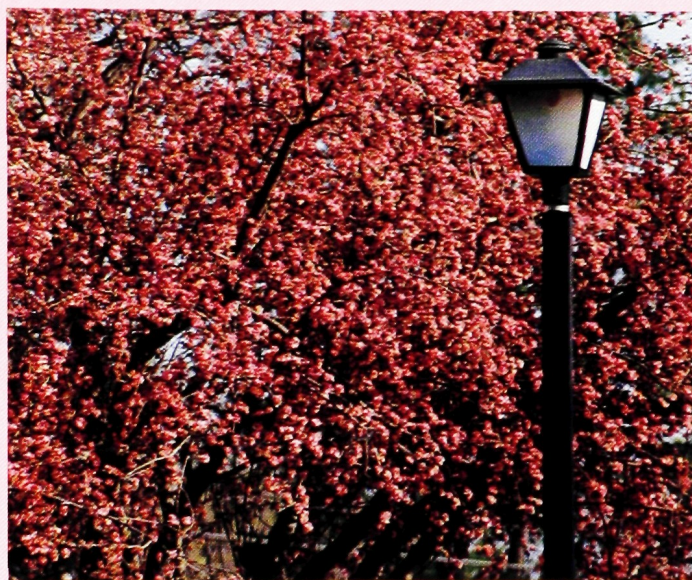

*What is tomorrow? Where is it?
 And when will it get here?
 This is a world of yesterdays and today's,
 and each tomorrow becomes both.
 Yet within each tomorrow, there is a special detail, hope.
 This carries us through each today makes sure there was a yesterday and will be a tomorrow.*

*There comes a time
 When you must learn
 That the world is yours to have.
 Just go for what you want the most
 And believe it's all there is.
 If life blocks your dreams,
 Then there's only one thing to do.
 Take a while to figure out
 Just what you really want.
 Life is wonderful even with obstacles.
 Just go for what you want.*

*Take a look around the world,
 just see what God has made.
 Look at all the flowers and trees.
 Just look — God had no aid.*

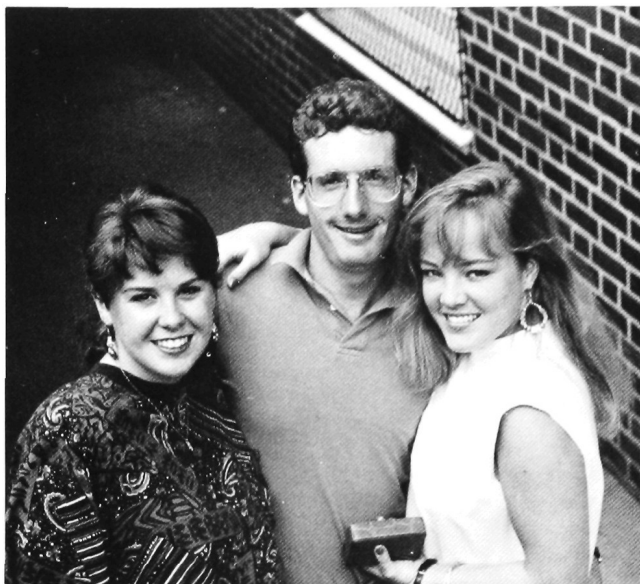

*The love of God is ever-present,
 you can see it in the swaying trees.
 Look at all the birds and insects.
 God even made the bees.*

*We should take the time to notice our world,
 just to see what God has made.
 Take the time to smell the flowers.
 Just look — God had no aid.*

*With the changing of the leaves, came the changing of our lives.
 From the fall of the seasons,
 arrived the rising of our hopes.
 New doors were opened to brighter tomorrows*

*and old doors were closed.
 Old friendships were rekindled,
 while new ones awaited.
 A year of new beginnings
 became realized and our goals were all as one.*

HPC ...

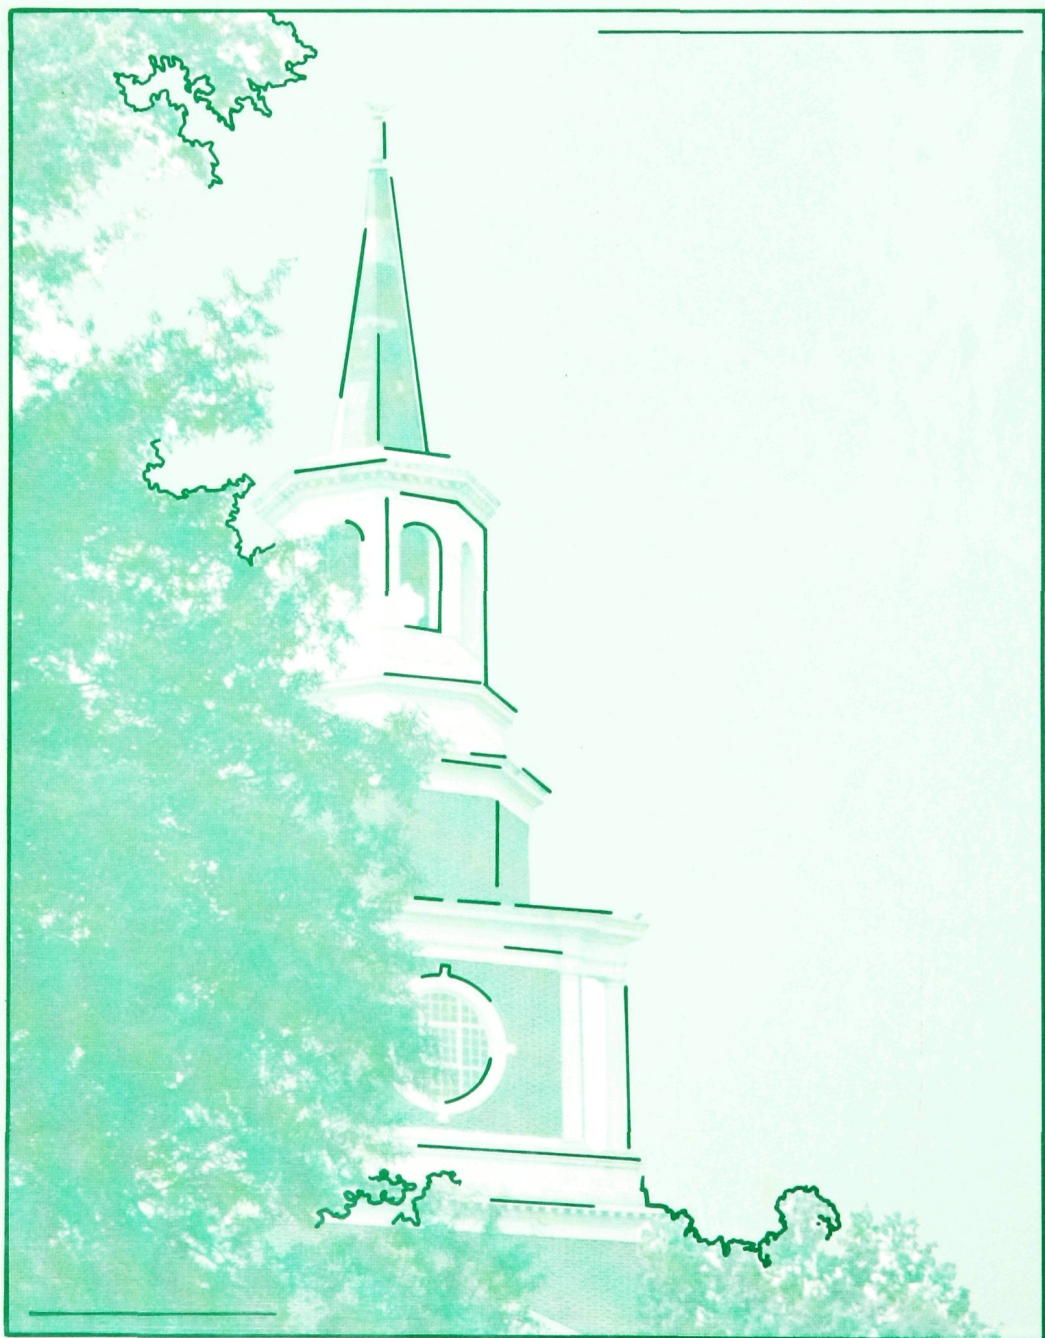

this is the life!

Stop! Take some time to look around you. Appreciate the friends and fortunes that surround you. Make a point to fill your days with beautiful memories for the future. These are the days to remember and before you know it time will slip through your hands. So hang on tightly to the memories of today and leave no regrets for tomorrow.
